

Why do we do Science?

Just one answer: For the betterment of society.

Two aspects of that:

- I To increase the material quality of life: from the elimination of poverty and having clean drinking water, to having nicer racing yachts.